traditional burning has been interrupted for over a hundred years resulting in intense wildfires, this has highlighted the need for Aboriginal people to take a lead and re-implement practices that protected people and the environment for tens of thousands of years. In recognition of this, leading fire agencies in the State such as DELWP and Parks Victoria are increasingly supportive of Aboriginal Traditional Owner initiatives around the return of Traditional Burning. Come along and watch the re-establishment of right fire into the landscape as we embark on this important practice of caring for country.
